

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to a composition and method for treating individuals afflicted with periodontal disease, namely gingivitis, through the application of vitamin E to the 5 periodontum.